GRAND JURY WILL PROBE ALLEGED GRAFTING DEALS.

Subpoenas Issued for City Officials in Connection With Alleged Crookedness at Institutions.

In relation to the alleged grafting in city supplies, the Grand Jury yesterday caused subpoenas to be issued for Thomas Stringer, chief meat inspector; John H. Baar, meat inspector; Doctor E. C. Runge, superintendent of the Insane Asylum; Doctor John H. Simon, Health Commissioner; Andrew Gatzert, Speaker of the House of Delegates; Richard Durney, Board of Health detective; John R. Fontana, member and former Speaker of the House of Delegates; Florence McCarthy and George Eads, newspaper men.

Doctor Simon, Gatzert and Fontana did not appear as witnesses. The others were examined. Eads and McCarthy, it is presumed, were asked how they obtained information about the alleged grafting in supplies which has been printed in their paper.

It is also presumed that Doctor Runge was questioned about supplies furnished to the asylum. In this regard it is reported that the meat supply was the topic of conversation.

It has been published, and several city officials quoted, that attempts have been made by certain persons who will supply to the city to "get to" the buyers by providing supplies of inferior quality and charging for high-grade goods, then dividing the difference with inspectors and officials who are in a position to reject food and necessary articles if they are not of a quality called for in the contracts.

Several newspaper men were before the Grand Jury and questioned as to obtaining accounts of that body's deliberations and publishing them.

Sues for Husband's Death.

Lillie Sanders sued the St. Louis and Meramec River Railway Company in the Circuit Court yesterday for $5,000 damages for the death of her husband, Ewing Sanders.

Constipation Leads to Typhoid and Malaria.

Mull's Grape Tonic Cures Constipation.

A constipated man is an easy victim for typhoid and malarial fevers. One whose bowels are open and free will not likely take either. The typhoid germs are harmless until they get into the alimentary canal. Then they do their dirt, followed to remain very long. It wouldn't do to take a physic, for that would irritate the intestines and make them all the more fertile for the attack of the disease germs. But you must keep the bowels open, and nothing will do it like

Mull's Grape Tonic.

It is a tonic which heals the irritation, makes it almost impossible for the germs to get into their deadly work and so stimulates the organs of the digestive parts that they are enabled to voluntarily perform their functions. One dose will prove it.

HAPPENINGS IN EAST SIDECITIES AND TOWNS.

BID ON FARM; HAD NO MONEY.

George W. Quigley of St. Louis was arrested and charged with Working "Confidence Game."

George W. Quigley of St. Louis was arrested on Real Estate row yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Thomas Walsh of East St. Louis, who held requisition papers from Governor Yates for Quigley on a charge of working a confidence game. Quigley was taken to Belleville, where he was locked up. It is believed that he will be released on bond to-day.

A land deal in which Quigley bid $35,000 for 500 acres of land near New Athens, known as the Burr estate, and for which he gave in payment to Master in Chancery Merrill his bid for the amount is directly responsible for Quigley's troubles. Since then the Circuit Court has ordered the sale set aside.

Master in Chancery Merrill, who is now in Springfield attending to some law business, swore to the formation before Justice of the Peace Wangelin of Belleville and charged Quigley, who is given the aliases of William George and William W. Quigley, with working a "confidence game."

The sale at which Quigley bid in the land was held on the Burr farm several months ago. The bidding for the farm was spirited, several farmers and investors being among the bidders. Quigley slowly advanced his bids until the property was sold to him for $28,000. He immediately gave Master in Chancery Merrill his bid for the amount, promising to settle the affair within the week.

Several weeks rolled by and then the heirs began to believe that the sale was not genuine and asked the Circuit Court to set it aside. This was done and the property is to be resold. It was alleged at the time that Quigley acted as an agent for several wealthy persons who wanted the land, but who deserted him at the price that he was compelled to bid in order to get it.

Quigley said yesterday he hid on the land and gave his day bill believing that he could get wealthy friends to take the property off his hands.
